Adult support / Teaching Assistants / School Staff are normally involved on a 1:10 basis; however due to the nature of School and Youth Groups we are flexible with this arrangement and quite happy to discuss individual Group requirements and needs.

Please allow 2 – 3 hours for your visit (dependant on group size and number of activities booked). Groups who have booked an all-day visit and who are staying for lunch will have agreed the appropriate times.

Cockpit Descriptions

Lancaster replica cockpit: RS5868 ‘S Sugar’ is one of 35 Lancaster’s which completed over 100 sorties during WWII. The replica on display is an accurate representation of the original airframe filled with genuine Lancaster instrumentation.

Vickers VC10 XV106: The VC10 was an extremely versatile aircraft which still holds the record for the fastest sub-sonic crossing of the Atlantic. The aircraft carried out important duties including medical evacuation from modern warzones and carrying VIP passengers.

Hawker Siddeley Nimrod MR2 XV235: The Nimrod MR2 was arguably the most advanced multi-role maritime aircraft of its time. It had the capability to detect, fix and destroy submerged submarines, carry out reconnaissance duties, and perform search and rescue operations.

Vulcan 603/602

Avro Vulcan XM602 rolled off the production line at Woodford in 1963 and served in the RAF as part of the V-Force, Britain's airborne nuclear deterrent during the Cold War. Vulcan 603 is the only (anti-flash) white Vulcan in the world.

Nimrod Submarine Hunting Station

A demonstration of how the Nimrod maritime aircraft hunted enemy submarines. Visitors will use a genuine Nimrod Tactical Navigation Station to locate a submerged enemy submarine.
